Washington, June 3, 1850. Sir-The comet discovered May 1st, by Dr. Peterson, of Altona, was observed here last night by Mr. Ferguson, with the equatorial. The comet is without a tail, and its nucleus presents the appearance of a pearly white nebula, about 1 min. 30 sec. in diameter, with marks of condensation about the centre.

We shall probably be enabled to obtain to night, by observation, at its meridian passage, the place of the star used for comparison last night; if so I shall report it.

Respectfully tfully &c., F. M. MAURY, Lt. U. S. N. Hon. Wm. B. Preston, Sec. Navy.

The Westminster Review,

In reply to some enquiries made of us by the Fremont Freeman, as to what "Old Lucas" was doing in regard to the Wellington, Norwalk and Toledo Railroad, we stated that we did not know, but were certain that she would do her share. We ate happy to be now able to say that the amount apportioned to this county (one hundred and fifty dollars) to aid in making preliminary surveys, was promptly raised, and remitted to the Treasurer at Norwalk yesterday.

The committee appointed to cause a survey, and report to the company, had a meeting at Wellington last Thursday, and having at Wellington last Thursday, and having at Wellington last Thursday, and having the Westminster Review,

This is followed by an interesting article on the "Persian Ballads." A review of the "Liberty of Rome," by Samuel Eliot, is not very compliants in our police courts or not. From present indications, an influence is likely to be brought to bear, that will insure the speedy completion of this road. The above we find in the Toledo Republicant, and we are glad to find the citizens of Lucas county so thoroughly aroused to the importance of this contemplated Railroad.

Toledo, and in fact all Lucas county, will be they were instructed to have the survey made as they were not a city of heroes? Who could preach, be his language never so inadequate, this sublimest doctrine of humanity, without homage unto him whom future ages will reverence as the apostle of faith—the patriot, the exile, and yet the victor—Joseph Mazzini? It was the insurrectionary flag of "La Giovine Italia" that first bore the divine inscripton "liberta, eguagalanza, unantial" of the patriot, the exile, and yet the victor—Joseph Mazzini? It was the insurrectionary flag of the many proceeding before a magistrate was not a privileged publication."

We don't know but that Lord Denman may be very good authority, but we think it rather a dangerous precedent to go to European Judges for law to regulate the "liberty of the press." We should think we were about old enough to put off our awadding divine inscripton "liberta, eguagalanza, unantial," and over the eternal city, first among the importance of this contemplated Railroad. divine inscripton "liberta, eguagalanza, uman-Toledo, and in fact all Lucas county, will be We have never doubted but this road, or hears not the approach of the hastening hour
